

ABSTRACT

An optical wave-guide device is provided between light source 5 and the lower diffuser for the light passing through the optical wave-guide device to form proper deflection and reflection to be consistently diffused through the lower diffuser without creating any blind area among light sources to effectively solve the problem of displaying bright band and dark band on the LCD 10 of the prior art.